Artist's statement

I designed these sneakers for casual or sports wear. The inspiration came from the nike dunks. For the colors I wanted to include my favorite color yellow, so I decided include grey to create complementary colors. I replaced the nike logo with a katana piecing through the shoe.

PRICE

Materials	Cost
Synthetic Leather	$20
Rubber	$12
Textiles	$50
Foam	$18

Total: $100

Manufacturer	Cost
One pair of shoes	$15

Total: $15

$115

Found costs of materials on Amazon. For the manufacturer I found it according to sneakerfactory.net

PRICE

After looking at the prices of similar products such as Nike Dunks, I believe that these shoes should cost $135. The reason why for this is because of the materials and the manufacturer. These shoes should cost $135 because of the similarity of price of other shoes and how much it costs in order to produce it.

PROMOTION

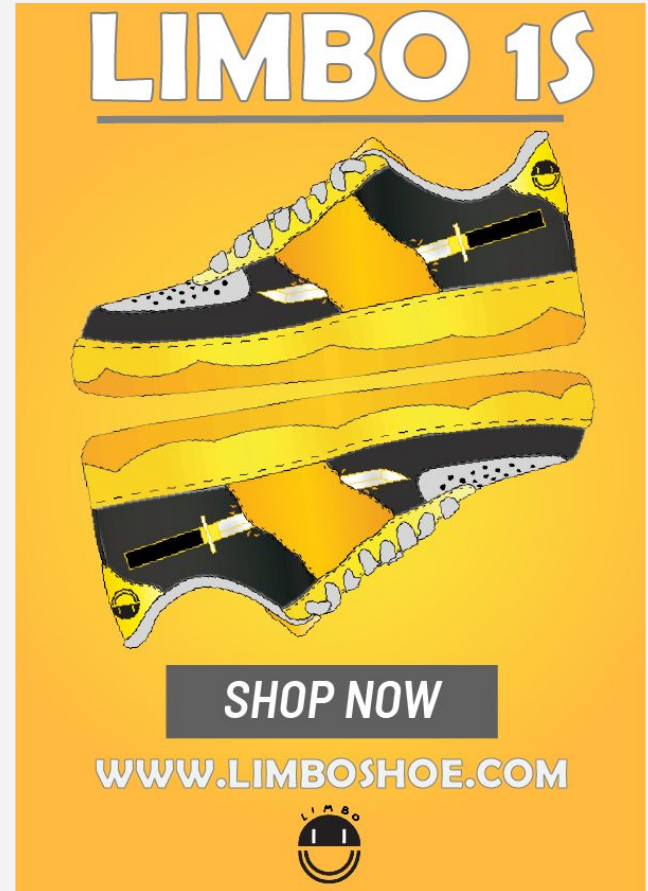

One way of promoting these shoes online is referring to a friend discount. 10% discount when referring to a friend about these shoes. $135 of 10% = 121.50. By using this method of promotion, customers that like these shoes can find another friend who has a similar taste of shoes like them. We can get more attention about these shoes by it being referred in order to receive a discount. A referral link can be shared in order for the discount to be applied.

"Refer to a friend to receive a 10% discount on the Limbo 1s on our website." ($121.50)

PROMOTION (PART 2)

Another way of promotion is creating flyers that can be put up publicly to show attention to consumers who enjoy collecting unique shoes. These posters can be put around shopping locations such as malls. Although flyers can also work too, it can even be put up on social media. Social medias such as Instagram would receive attention of our nice looking sneakers.

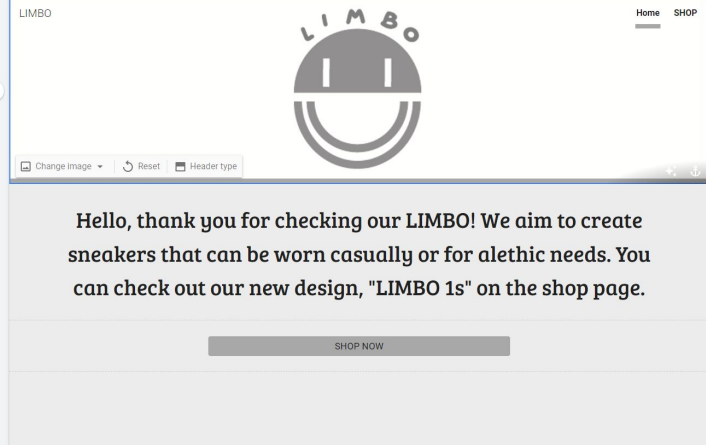

PLACEMENT

We are planning on selling our product at footlocker. Footlocker would be a great location to sell our shoes because of the variety of sneakers they have there.

Once is our social media is created we'll also allow our customers to purchase from there. Getting attention of our product on social media customers would want to buy. We would use delivery company, which is USPS for our product to get to the customer.
